

Donor Communications & Digital Engagement

Aramaic Broadcasting Network (ABN) · Role: Marketing Director

THE CHALLENGE

ABN needed to grow digital engagement and donor participation across a multilingual, multi-generational audience, on a nonprofit budget with no dedicated marketing automation specialist on staff. The donor communications program covered more than 10,000 subscribers, and content had to work in English, Arabic, and Chaldean without reading as a straight translation from a single source language.

MY APPROACH

I owned the full donor communications and digital engagement function at once: email strategy inside Network for Good and Bonterra, paid social spend, content production, and event execution. Rather than treating each channel separately, I built one coordinated system so donor messaging, social content, and event promotion reinforced each other instead of competing for the same audience's attention.

WHAT I BUILT

- Restructured donor email program in Network for Good and Bonterra, rebuilding segmentation and cadence to match how each part of the subscriber base actually engaged.
- Multilingual content adapted, not translated, per audience: distinct framing and creative for English, Arabic, and Chaldean readers.
- Managed paid social program, handling targeting, creative, budget allocation, and performance reporting.
- End-to-end event execution, from planning through live production, tied back into donor and digital engagement goals.

RESULTS

23% → 41% DONOR EMAIL OPEN RATE	30% DIGITAL ENGAGEMENT GROWTH	$25K+ PAID SOCIAL MANAGED	10,000+ SUBSCRIBER DONOR PROGRAM
---	---	--	--

The organization saw year-over-year donation revenue growth over the tenure of this work. Leadership rehired me in 2025, specifically to lead digital strategy again, based on that track record.

This is a clear example of driving measurable engagement growth inside real constraints: a nonprofit budget, no dedicated automation specialist, and an audience that spans three languages. The open-rate and engagement numbers weren't the result of one channel change. They came from treating email, paid social, content, and events as one coordinated system rather than four separate jobs.